1. PURPOSE

This directive establishes guidelines for reporting crimes, arrests, and other events of importance to the Police Department.

2. POLICY

The Department uses a system of reports to document crimes, arrests, and other matters. The functions served by these reports are guiding and documenting the investigation and actions of officers at the scene of crimes and certain other incidents; the official communication between the reporting officer and the follow-up investigator, prosecutor, property clerk, or other interested party; the official memory of the Department, available for later reference; documenting the follow-up investigation, the disposition of the case, the handling of property and evidence and other procedures, and linking this action with the original incident report; the basis for crime analysis, both for deployment of patrol officers and for the investigation of cases; and the basis for reporting Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) statistics to the FBI.

3. RESPONSIBILITIES

3.1 Division commanders will monitor the implementation of this directive.
3.2 Zone commanders will implement this directive in their commands.

3.3 Watch commanders shall ensure that complete and accurate reports are turned in by the end of officers’ shift unless other wised approved by his or her supervisor.

3.4 Officers and investigators shall be responsible for completing and submitting all their necessary reports and documentation prior to the end of his or her workday. Any exception to the aforementioned must be granted by his or her supervisor.

3.5 Communications supervisors will modify the CAD record at the request of the zone watch commander.

3.6 Communications will ensure that stolen vehicle lookouts are broadcasted in a timely manner.

3.7 GCIG Operator will place stolen vehicles on G.C.I.C. no later than one-hour after the incident report is completed and received within the unit.

3.8 Central Records will remove all stolen and or recovered motor vehicles from G.C.I.C. and notify the reporting party in accordance with this written directive.

4. ACTION

4.1 General Guidelines

4.1.1 A crime or other incident which comes to the attention of the Department is ordinarily handled first by a patrol officer. The officer conducts a preliminary investigation, including interviews with the complainant and other witnesses, to obtain who, what, why, where, when, and how of the incident. The results of the investigation and officer’s actions are described in an incident report; this report is the basis of the Department’s official knowledge of the incident and any subsequent action.

1. The officer assigned by the dispatcher to a call is responsible for the preliminary investigation and for making any necessary reports unless otherwise directed by a supervisor. The officer will use the incident report, supplementary incident report, property/evidence inventory, vehicle impound report, and so forth, as needed. Officers must keep a supply of these forms. All reports must be satisfactorily completed and submitted.

2. If possible, each report will be written using ICIS. Otherwise, the report must be printed legibly in black ink and reports and other documents may be signed using blue ink.

3. Use the incident report as an aid to the preliminary investigation. For handwritten reports, ask questions in the order in which items appear on the form, generally from left to right and from top to bottom. Except where circumstances clearly indicate otherwise, all blocks and spaces on the form should be completed with the required information. If a block or space is not applicable, draw a line through it. This procedure simplifies the writing task and reduces the chance that important information will be omitted.

4. The proper format for the name of a victim, witness, or arrestee is LAST, first, middle. Always print the last name in all capital letters. All proper names, including the names of businesses, must be spelled out in full.
a. In names with compound surnames, including some Hispanic names, the subject may be listed under two or more different surnames. For example:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Subject's name</th>
<th>Proper format</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Jose Rodriguez-Gonzalez</td>
<td>RODRIGUEZ-GONZALEZ, Jose</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jose Rodriguez Gonzalez</td>
<td>RODRIGUEZ GONZALEZ, Jose</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jose Rodriguez y Gonzalez</td>
<td>RODRIGUEZ Y GONZALEZ, Jose</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

In all three cases, the name Jose Rodriguez and Jose Gonzalez should be considered aliases.

b. In some names, it may be hard to identify the surname. The different names should be treated as aliases. For example:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Subject's name</th>
<th>Proper format</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Donald Lee Nai</td>
<td>NAI, Donald Lee</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>LEE, Donald Nai</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>DONALD, Lee Nai</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

5. All reports (incident report, supplementary incident report, property/evidence inventory, vehicle impound report, clear-up report, and change of status report) must have incident numbers. When adding information regarding an earlier reported crime or incident, be sure that the supplement, property/evidence inventory, vehicle impound report, or other report carries the same incident number as the original incident report. Never use an incident number from another jurisdiction except when referencing it in the narrative. It must be referenced in the narrative if another agency case number is associated with the report.

6. When reporting a victim's or other person's telephone number, specify the area code. Email address should be obtained and documented for follow up communication with the involved parties.

7. Always record locations accurately, including the beat. The apartment, suite, or room number and the quadrant (NE, NW, SE, and SW) are integral parts of the address. If the officer does not know the beat, he or she will verify it with the Communications dispatcher. Ensure that correct incident locations are used if the incident occurred at a different location than where you were dispatched.

8. In handwritten reports do not crowd the narrative field with text. Use a supplement, if necessary, to outline the essentials of the incident and the elements of the crime.

9. When using more than one page, in handwritten reports, the officer should number the pages, such as 1 of 2 and 2 of 2, to keep them in order and provide for easy reference.

10. All reports must comply with the provisions of the Uniform Crime Reporting guideline, as administered by the Central Records Unit.
4.1.2 Special Considerations for Stolen Vehicle Reports

1. When the reporting person is unable to provide a tag or identification number during the preliminary investigation, the investigating officer will take the report with the limited information provided, provide the reporting person the case number and informed the reporting person that the vehicle cannot be placed on the system until tag and or VIN information can be verified. Once the missing information is provided, the victim shall be directed to contact the officer’s precinct to have a supplemental report completed. The officer completing the supplemental report shall be required to contact Central Records and have the vehicle added to the system.

2. After the preliminary investigation and the incident report are completed, the reporting officer or investigator will contact the GCIC Unit Operator to verify the tag and vehicle identification number. The investigating officer or investigator will provide the Communications dispatcher with a lookout i.e., makes, model, year, tag, vehicle identification number, last known direction of travel, and the date of the theft as well as any other pertinent information.

3. The investigating officer will submit the completed incident report to his or her supervisor as soon as possible but no later than by the end of their tour of duty for the purpose of review, approval, and forwarding to Central Records.

4. The investigating officer shall call Central Records and have the vehicle added to the system. The officer must note in his or her narrative the time her or she contacted the Central Records Unit and the name of the person they spoke with at Central Records.

4.1.3 Reporting by an Off-duty Officer

1. Off-duty officers employed by a private employer will respond to reported and witnessed incidents and will be responsible for the completion and turning in of required reports by the end of their tour of duty. The officer will conduct a thorough investigation and preserve and collect evidence relative to the incident. When the investigation would require the officer to leave the scene of the outside employment, or when a vehicle accident occurs, the officer will request that an on-duty unit be dispatched to the scene to handle the incident.

2. The off-duty officer shall complete his or her report on Incident Crime Information System (ICIS) or take the incident report and other documentation to a supervisor in the zone of the extra job to be approved and signed.

3. The on-duty officer responding to the request from an officer who is off-duty will then be responsible for conducting a thorough investigation and will assume responsibility for completing and turning in necessary reports related to the incident.

4. Zone supervisors shall notify the FOD Administrative Office when an off-duty officer constantly fails to timely complete reports and other required documentation from an extra job. Once notified, the FOD commander will review the officer’s extra job request or forward the notice to the command of the officer’s permanent duty assignment for action.

4.1.4 Reporting by a Private Security Guard

When an officer responds to calls for service from private security personnel, the officer will be responsible for completing and turning in reports, interviewing witnesses, collecting evidence, and will treat the reporting private security person as a witness or reporting person for reporting purposes.

4.1.5 Supervisory Review

1. Each report submitted by an officer or investigator must be reviewed and approved by the officer’s supervisor. This procedure is intended to ensure that reports are complete and legible when submitted to Central Records and to provide another opportunity for the supervisor to review the daily activities of the officer or investigator. Supervisors are responsible for having all incident reports submitted to Central Records. All missing person reports will be collected or reviewed electronically, approved by the supervisor and submitted to the Central Records GCIC Unit within one (1) hour of the incident.

2. The incident report, although primarily used to record information, can be used as an investigative tool by the police officer. The report is formatted to serve as a guide or an outline to follow when conducting an initial investigation. The report can help the officer develop those facts he or she knows to be important.

4.1.6 When to Make a Report

1. All crimes reported to or witnessed by sworn personnel; including all situations of family violence.

2. All physical arrests, including traffic arrests.

3. All copy-of-charges arrests, except minor traffic violations.

4. All juvenile situations, whether an arrest was made, or the juvenile was turned over to the parent or guardian; including, any incident involving a child’s welfare or removal from the custody of a parent or guardian.

5. All significant events in a follow-up investigation.

6. All situations resulting in damage, loss, or theft of City property.

7. All deaths whether natural, accidental, traffic-related, suicidal, criminal, or due to unknown causes. Also, suicide attempts.

8. All situations resulting in injury, including an injury to an on-duty employee.

9. All incidents of a firearm discharge or use of force by a Department employee.

10. Incidents of lost or damaged property reported to an officer by a citizen.

11. In all cases where it is not clear if a report is needed.

12. Any incident or circumstances that the officer believes should be documented for future reference.

13. Any vehicle pursuit (in accordance with APD.SOP.3050, “pursuit Policy”).

14. When directed by his or her supervisor.
4.1.7 When to Make a Supplemental Report

1. If an arrest occurs or property is recovered after an initial report is completed, a supplemental offense must be completed by the reporting officer.

2. When an arrest is made or when property is added or recovered after the initial incident, a supplemental offense report must be completed using the original complaint number. A suffix number is automatically generated for the subsequent number of reports.

3. If an arrest is made out of jurisdiction, the affiant (officer or investigator who swore out the warrant) will complete the supplemental offense report as soon as possible.

4.2 Preparing Handwritten Incident Reports

4.2.1 Coded Responses

The blocks in the incident report that are marked with asterisks (*) provide for pre-coded information. The codes are designed to standardize officers’ responses on items which are important for crime analysis. Use of the codes will make it easier to link related incidents and to establish patterns. In a situation where the codes do not provide an adequate response, use the code for "other" and describe the situation further in the narrative. In many cases the code will not fully describe the situation; the officer should use the narrative and appropriate blocks to fully describe the situation.

4.2.2 The Incident Report (form APD-001) is divided into ten parts. Each of the ten parts will be explained separately on the following pages, and in sequence, sections 4.2.3 through 4.2.12. Following these instructions is a copy of the incident report. The blocks on the incident report are numbered and the instructions for each part correspond to the numbers on the report form.

1. All ten parts may not apply to every incident. Complete only the parts containing data relevant to the incident.

2. Whenever a report is completed, review it for legibility and completeness.
   a. Ensure that the incident number is at the top of each page.
   b. Ensure that each page is numbered on the front side, at the top right corner, and pages are in sequence.
   c. If a page, section, or block is not applicable, draw a line through it or enter N/A for "not applicable." This procedure simplifies the writing task and reduces the chance that important information will be omitted.

3. When using multiple sheets of form APD-001, always write the incident number and page number at the top of each one. On the second and following sheets, use only those parts required for the additional victims, arrestees, etc. In such instances, it is not necessary to complete the general incident data.

4. When using form APD-001 to report a later arrest, enter the original incident number in block 1 and the date of this supplement in block 2. Write "SUPPLEMENTARY REPORT" in block 9. Draw a diagonal line through the other parts of the front and use the back to report on the arrestee.
4.2.3 Incident Data

"PAGE" and "OF": After arranging the forms, number each page in sequence. Pages are numbered in sequence counting front and back as one page. Enter the page number in the "PAGE" box. The total number of pages in the original report is entered in the "Of" box.

Item # Instructions:

1. INCIDENT / CICA No.: Enter the nine-digit number given over the police radio. All reports must have an "Incident" number. The Incident number is a nine-digit number uniquely identifying an incident and all APD associated documents. The first two digits reflect the calendar year; the 3rd, 4th and 5th digits are the Julian date; the last four digits are a computer generated number commonly referred to as the "CAD (Computer Assisted Dispatch) Number." Write the same incident number on the back of the incident report and on any other reports and tickets that pertain to the same incident. The term "Incident Number" will be used throughout the remainder of the chapter.

2. DATE AND TIME OF REPORT: Enter the date and time the report is completed (the time an officer pulls in code 17 on police radio). Use double digits for the date and use military time. For example, January 1, 2004 at 3:00 p.m. is written as 01/01/04-1500.

3. GA CODE(S): Leave blank, entered by Central Records Unit.

4. STATUS: Leave blank, entered by Central Records Unit.

5. VIC #: Leave blank, entered by Central Records Unit.

6. UCR CLASS: Leave blank, also entered by Central Records Unit.

7. RESERVED: Leave blank.

8. REPORTING AREA: Enter the APD beat number for the location of the incident.

9. LOCATION: Enter the street address where the incident occurred. The location must be entered as a street number, street name, apartment number, if any and zip code. Place a check to indicate the quadrant, and then check the county or airport. If there is no street number available, call the police radio dispatcher and obtain a number for the nearest intersection.

10. LOCATION TYPE: Enter the code in the box that most closely describes the location. If an appropriate choice is not listed, enter #25 "Other" and write the correct description.

11. DATE / TIME INCIDENT OCCURRED: The first date and time entered should be the earliest possible time the incident could have occurred. The second date and time should be the latest time the incident could have occurred. If the exact time and date are known or the entire incident took less than one minute, make only one entry in the first date and time block. Draw a horizontal line through the second date and time block to indicate it was deliberately left blank.

12. REPORTING OFFICER: The name of the officer who is writing the original report. Officers will enter their LAST name first, followed by their first and second initials, and their suffix (Jr., Sr., III) if any.

13. SEX: Enter the gender of the Reporting Officer.
14. APD ID NUMBER: Enter the reporting officer's assigned Atlanta Police Department ID number.

15. ASSIGNMENT NUMBER: Enter the radio assignment number used for identification on police radio.

16. COURT CODE / OFF DAYS / COURT TIME: Indicate whether the reporting officer witnessed the incident or is just reporting it. Enter the reporting officer's assigned off days by circling the first letter of each day off, (For example: circling SM represents Sunday and Monday; circling TF represents Thursday and Friday). The assigned court time is written as military time. (An example of a properly entered court time is "1400," which represents 2 PM.)

17. DESCRIBE HOW CRIME COMMITTED: For proper identification of crimes officers will make a preliminary assessment of the crime committed based on the elements of the crime. No longer will the officer write a description of the crime committed. If it is determined that the report must be reclassified, Central Records will make the proper determination and change the appropriate field on the incident report.

18. ATTEMPT ONLY: Check "yes" or "no" as appropriate. For example, if the crime was an attempted burglary or attempted rape, check "yes." If the crime was completed, check "no." If no crime was committed, place a horizontal dash in the block to indicate it was deliberately left blank.

19. WEAPON OR TOOL USED: Use the appropriate code for the weapon or tool used in the incident. If there is no appropriate code, use "other," and describe it as precisely as possible.

20. TEMPERATURE / WEATHER: Mark an "X" in the appropriate block. (For reference: cold is 45 degrees or below, cool is 46 to 65, warm is 65 to 80, above 80 degrees is hot.) Mark the predominant weather condition present at the time of the incident.

21. FORCED ENTRY: Check the appropriate box to indicate whether a forced entry is related to the incident.

22. ALCOHOL RELATED: Check the appropriate box to indicate whether alcohol is a factor in the incident. This can be either the victim or the suspect who appeared to be under the influence.

23. BIAS INCIDENT: Check the appropriate box to indicate whether bias is a factor in the incident. If the incident is a hate crime, the incident is a bias incident. The fact that the victim is a member of a minority group does not necessarily make the incident a bias incident. City Code Section 98-39 specifies "criminal acts that manifest evidence of prejudice based on race, religion, gender, sexual orientation, national origin, physical impairment, HIV infection, or ethnicity or the perception thereof."

24. GANG RELATED: Indicate whether the incident is related to gang activity or suspected gang activity.

The occurrence of one or more of the following acts between past or present spouses, persons who are parents of the same child, parents and children, stepparents and stepchildren, foster parents and foster children, or other persons living or formerly living in the same household:

a. Any felony; or

b. Commission of offenses of battery, simple battery, simple assault, assault stalking, criminal damage to property, unlawful restraint, or criminal trespass.

26. SECURITY DEVICES: Indicate whether some kind of security device was in use. The device can be an alarm, dog, security camera, or security guard. A “yes” response should be entered whether the device was successful or not. (On the back of the form there is a space (#63) to specify the type of security device.)

27. SPECIAL EVENT: Indicate whether the incident is related to a special event occurring in the City.

Examples of special events are: The NCAA Finals, Super Bowl, Music Mid-town, major conventions etc.

The back of the incident report has space to report on two individuals who may be arrestees, suspects, or missing persons. It is important to have accurate and thorough descriptions of suspects and missing persons, so that they may be found. In the case of the arrested person, the description may help in the investigation, in court testimony, and in linking other cases. If the officer must report on more than two suspects or arrested persons, use an additional incident report. Blocks 51 through 55 apply only to missing persons.

Item # Instructions

1. ARRESTEE/SUSPECT/MISSING PERSON CODE: Check the appropriate box to show whether the person being described was physically arrested (ARR), given a copy (Copy), is a suspect (SUS), or is a missing person (MIS).
